

Head Start

What is Head Start?

Head Start helps parents prepare their young children for preschool and kindergarten. The program serves low-income families with children who are too young for public school. Head Start and Early Head Start provide child education, parent education, social services and health services to parents or primary caregivers of children ages 0-5.

How does it work?

Sessions at Head Start centers allow parents and children to share learning experiences. Eligible children can remain in Head Start for two years. There is no preference for brothers or sisters of enrolled children. Transportation is provided to and from the bi-monthly center sessions. Ten percent of enrollment is saved for children who have diagnosed disabilities; for those families, income guidelines may be waived.
