

Housing Assistance

What is the Housing Choice Vouchers Program (HCVP)?

Housing Choice Vouchers help low- and moderate-income people choose and buy or lease (rent) safe, affordable private housing. Housing Vouchers are available to those who are:

- Working families in which the head of household or a spouse is:
 - Employed at least 20 hours per week
 - Self-employed
 - Attending school full time
 - Attending a certified General Educational Development (GED) program
 - Participating in a (verifiable) job training program
- Disabled
- Elderly (62 years of age or older)
- Near-elderly (50-61 years of age)
- Disabled (having a genuinely limiting physical or mental impairment)

How does it work?

Vouchers are distributed locally by a government housing agency; payments are made directly to the landlord by the agency. Whether or not you can receive housing vouchers depends on your household's total pre-tax income and family size. Vouchers are limited to US citizens and a select group of non-citizens eligible for immigration status.

How does one apply?
